DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it is longer than 150 words.

Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Art Unit: 3765

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1, 19 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Franklin (2,396,842).

In regard to claims 1, 19 and 20, Franklin discloses a shirt (not numbered) with a neckband (5), a collar (C or 4) and the usual fastener (not numbered) wherein the neckband (5) is stretchable and yields in at least a circumferential direction when a tensile force is applied due to the plurality of holes (Z) therein. The holes (Z) elongate when a tensile force is applied longitudinally to the neckband and thereby enabling the neckband (6) to stretch or yield in the circumferential direction as claimed in claim 19. The collar (c or 4) material of Franklin is that which is used in a convention shirt which is woven and which inherently includes warp and weft threads and the holes (Z) have reinforcing stitching (S) around their perimeter to prevent unraveling of the threads as claimed in claim 20. (See Franklin- col. 1, line 50 - col. 3, line 22 and figures 1-3).

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-17 of of U.S. Patent No. 6,212,686 and claims 1-17 of U.S. Patent No. 6,081,926. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the same extendable collar structure with the bias material and holes within the neckband used to elongate the collar and neckband are claimed therein.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited references disclose shirt neckbands which elongate.
